Return from Berlin: The Eye of a Navigator

By Robert Grilley

University of Wisconsin Press. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Return from Berlin: The Eye of a Navigator, Robert Grilley, During the summer of 1944, the now-legendary American Eighth Air Force was engaged in a ferocious air battle over Europe to bring the Allies victory over the German Third Reich. This is the story of one B-17 navigator and his crewmates, men who faced extraordinary danger with a maturity beyond their years. This vivid and detailed account of combat flying and its psychological toll also recalls the beginning of Robert Grilley's development as a painter of international renown, as he spends his off-duty time drawing the peaceful Northamptonshire landscape around Deenethorpe airbase. Wakened with flashlights on their faces in the predawn hours, he and his crew repeatedly face the Luftwaffe in battles five miles high, flying through flak "so thick you could get out and walk on it." Stretching their stamina to the limits, they succeed time after time in their missions to bomb munitions works, railyards, the Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg in eastern Germany, the V2 rocket research center at Peenemunde on the distant Baltic Coast, and even to strike Hitler's capital city, Berlin. But Grilley finds...

It is just one of my personal favorite publications. It is among the most awesome publications I have read. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Undoubtedly, this is the best fiction by any writer. This really is for those who state there was not a really worth reading. It has been written in an exceptionally basic way which is merely right after I finished reading through this book by which it really transformed me, change the way I really believe.
